

THE ARMY.

Cheering Reports From Every Section.
Memorial Day at Honolulu.

We present below our customary budget of Department news, and invite special attention to the account of how Memorial Day was observed in distant Honolulu, referred to in Commander-in-Chief Van Dervoort's address before the Denver Encampment. The full text of that address will be found on another page of the present issue.

During the past week, THE TRIBUNE has furnished blank applications for Post charters in response to requests from the following: N. L. Weston, Colfax, Ia.; Frank M. Edley, Shawnee, Kan.; J. F. J. Fields, Atlanta, Ga.; O. W. Taylor, Nicholson, Pa.; J. H. Wagoner, Delavan, Minn.; F. M. Campbell, Fountainville, Ind.

MAINE.

Comrade F. W. Call, Mead Post, No. 40, Department of Maine, writes us as follows: In your issue of June 25, I was much interested in reading a letter from Comrade James A. D. C., Department of Michigan, to Commander-in-Chief Van Dervoort, on the subject of temperance. Some of the very best of our ex-soldiers are weak enough to give way to drink, and that state of mind is a great hindrance to the work we are doing. Let us do our best to help them. Let us not pass them by, but let us remember that they are now comrades, and let us try to help them. THE NATIONAL TRIBUNE will aid us.

Comrade G. W. Webster, Jr., Commander Asbury Post, No. 51, Seaboard Post, No. 10, Mead Post, No. 40, Department of Maine, writes us as follows: I am much interested in reading a letter from Comrade James A. D. C., Department of Michigan, to Commander-in-Chief Van Dervoort, on the subject of temperance. Some of the very best of our ex-soldiers are weak enough to give way to drink, and that state of mind is a great hindrance to the work we are doing. Let us do our best to help them. Let us not pass them by, but let us remember that they are now comrades, and let us try to help them. THE NATIONAL TRIBUNE will aid us.

"Yet," B. H. Beale Post, No. 12, Bangor, Me., writes us as follows: At our Post meeting a new night song was sung, and it was very good. It was written by a comrade who was in the ranks of the United States, Hannibal Hamlin; one major, three captains and one private. How is that for high? The boys still continue to stand by THE TRIBUNE and they all consider it the best soldier paper printed.

VERMONT.

A TRIBUNE correspondent, who recently visited Chelsea, Vt., writes as follows: While "doing" the town we noticed on one corner of the common the foundation all laid for a building forty by sixty feet, and timber piled around, ready for use. The following facts: About four years ago the survivors of the late war determined to erect, to the memory of their fallen comrades, a Memorial Hall, which should be a public hall nicely fitted up for all occasions, a G. A. R. Hall and rooms for cooking, etc., the building to be crowned by a dome surmounted by the statue of Liberty. The project was completed, and was an ornament to any town. In order to avoid future trouble the heirs of the person who gave the land to the town were notified, and the heirs consented that the hall might be placed upon the land, and the corner not at all infringing upon the town. The old veterans, the mountains and worked hard to secure the building material, until every stone in the foundation was laid and every stick of timber ready for use. The town was then asked to put up their hall and brought an injunction to prevent it. The same spirit has since then manifested itself against the Memorial Hall in that town. One Memorial Day the veterans arranged for a dinner in the courthouse hall. While the ladies were setting the tables, the sheriff, who was in the hall, ordered that if they went in it should be by a small side door towards the rear. The pride of the soldiers was wounded, and they purchased arms of the law was told to "make him self scarce around there," and was given to understand that the veterans would charge to the front and not smelt to the rear.

General Order No. 8, issued on the 18th inst. at Bennington, Vt., reads: The Department Commander—C. C. Kinsman, A. G. C.—contains the following: It is the intention of the Commander of this Department to accept the invitation of Comrade Post No. 1, Crosby, and call the second semi-annual Encampment of the Department of Vermont, at St. Johnsbury, Vt., on the 24th and 25th of August and September 7, next. It is hoped and expected that Posts will be fully represented, and that comrades, not delegates, will attend in large numbers. The purpose of the Encampment at Rutland was to give a good example of the order, and of great good to the Order. There is no doubt but that the one to be held at St. Johnsbury will be equally enjoyable and successful in advancing the interest of the Order throughout the State.

The following circular has also been issued from headquarters: During the absence, at the National Encampment, of the Department Commander, the duties of the office will devolve upon Comrade N. M. Coffey, who is hereby appointed A. A. G., and will be expected to perform accordingly. Post-office address, Bennington, Vt.

MASSACHUSETTS.

Comrade John G. Senter, Adjutant, writes us as follows: The full meeting of the Grand Army of the Republic was never more vividly illustrated than when Comrade Horace Barney, belonging to Post No. 47, of Haverhill, Mass., was on his return from Washington, D. C., where he had been to gain strength and visit friends in his early years. It seems that he had just for the night at a hotel in Belknap Falls, Vt., and was taken suddenly ill, becoming very ill, and remaining so for some considerable length of time. He had the forethought to provide himself with a traveling card, which proved a talisman, and secured him a room at the Belknap Falls, which kindly took him in charge, cared for him with an open hand, and on his arrival safe and sound. This is only one of the many cases of a like nature that go on.

Comrade Barton Post, No. 63, Warren, Mass., at its regular meeting, July 15, elected H. M. Converse, Commander; Vice, John H. Goodhue; Sec. V. C. Vice, Goodhue, promoted; Wm. A. Stearns, J. V. C. Vice, Goodhue, promoted; J. H. Goodhue was chosen delegate to the convention of the Worcester County Association, at Worcester, on the 26th, and 27th, and 28th, and 29th, and 30th, and 31st, and 1st, and 2nd, and 3rd, and 4th, and
